If you haven't heard of Twelve Hills Nature Center, you need to know about it! Built on a site where rundown apartments once stood, Twelve Hills Nature Center is a five-acre hilly area being restored to native Blackland Prairie. It is a place for visitors to take a relaxing walk in a natural area, a place for hands-on nature education for surrounding schools and the community, and a model where visitors can learn about the natural world and the need for conservation.

Grape Expectations, Twelve Hills Nature Center's annual fundraiser, takes place Saturday, May 11, from 6:30-9:30 PM. We'll be at the historic Turner House, a beautifully-restored prairie style 1912 home, now an Oak Cliff Landmark and events venue dedicated to the arts and building community.

The evening brings over one hundred Twelve Hills supporters to a festive social gathering to enjoy delicious food, a selection of wines, an awesome silent auction, musical entertainment and a fun evening celebrating 17 years of providing a beautiful, undeveloped stretch of land for our communities to enjoy and learn about nature.

Grape Expectations and the money raised at this event, support the operating fund of this unique 501(c)3 nonprofit. You have amazing opportunities to be a part of this loving effort - make a donation to the silent auction, be a sponsor and of course, buy tickets! All of this will support nature education, habitat restoration and recreation at this neighborhood gem. With no paid staff, Twelve Hills relies on volunteers to provide leadership, raise money, care for the land and our beautiful entrance and butterfly garden. Twelve Hills also partners with Rosemont Elementary School and North Texas Master Naturalists to teach students in adjacent schools about the joy and value of the natural world, lessons that nurture a love for our planet. There is a deed restriction on Twelve Hills so that the land will never be developed. Twelve Hills is a Monarch Watch Certified Monarch Habitat and a National Wildlife Federation Certified Wildlife Habitat.

I am thrilled to offer you this opportunity to get involved, to personally participate in the care and growth of Twelve Hills Nature Center and enjoy the fruits of these efforts! The forms attached will make it easy to be a part of it all.

Thank you for your support.
Best Regards,

Marcie Haley
